ROAD ACCIDENT FUND / PERSONAL ACCIDENT COVER

On 25th November 2010, the Constitutional Court finally dismissed the constitutional challenge to certain provisions of the 2005 amendment to the Road Accident Fund Act. Road accident victim's no longer have a common law right to claim damages from the other party. As compensation from The Fund, in respect of claims for loss of income or dependent's support is presently capped at R160 000.00 per annum, it is important to consider purchasing Personal Accident cover to fill the gap in compensation. HOMEOWNERS - PROTECT YOUR ASSETS

Properly maintained trees can be an asset to any property.

With the advent of recent rains, it would be wise to inspect trees for potential damage to your property, and/or a public service supplies, such as telephone and electricity cables. Property maintenance is a General Condition of a Policy, and failure to comply, can lead to complications and even repudiation at the time of potential loss.
